問題 A

Kyoko : Hello, Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown: Oh. Hi, Kyoko. Are you looking for any books?

Kyoko : Yes, I'm looking for an English book about Japanese culture.

I'm going to go to Australia next month with some of my friends and my English teacher.

In Australia, we are going to visit a high school and give the book as a present to the students there.

Mr. Brown: That's good! Have you found a good book for them?

Kyoko : Yes, I have. But there are two books that are good. Look at these books.

This is a book about Japanese food, and this one shows Japanese festivals in many places. Which is better, Mr. Brown?

Mr. Brown: Well, I think the book about Japanese festivals is better. Festivals will be exciting for the students.

Kyoko : You're right. I'll buy it. Thank you, Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown: You're welcome, Kyoko. What are you going to do at the high school?

Kyoko : We are going to have a music class with the students. After that we are going to have a party together. In the party, there will be a speech time, and I will tell them something about Japan. Oh, in my speech, I can use this book and talk about Japanese festivals!

Mr. Brown: That's a good idea! They will enjoy your speech.

Kyoko : I really hope so. I will think about my speech at home today. Well, Mr. Brown, did you come here to look for any books?

Mr. Brown: Yes, I want a book about old Japanese buildings. I am studying Japanese culture because I want to know about Japan more. Now, I will go to find my book. See you at school tomorrow.

Kyoko : See you, Mr. Brown.

Question No. 1: When is Kyoko going to go to Australia?

Question No. 2: How many books does Kyoko show Mr. Brown?

Question No. 3: What will Kyoko talk about in her speech?

Question No. 4: Why is Mr. Brown studying Japanese culture?

Question No. 5: Has Mr. Brown found a book about old Japanese buildings?
